

Director of Contemporary Worship and Music - Full Time

The Presbyterian Church at New Providence is a thriving congregation centered on Jesus Christ. Since our founding in 1737, worship has been the heartbeat of our church. We currently conduct five services each Sunday: three contemporary with praise teams, one service that is more traditional/blended and one meditative piano led. Our 780 members span generations and each service has its own 'flavor'.

We are looking for a spiritually mature, musically gifted servant of God to lead and develop our contemporary music ministry. You will be working with established and gifted praise teams, and have support from a well resourced Production Arts team, all of whom are striving to create culturally relevant worship. You will report to the Senior Pastor, and also collaborate with the traditional/blended worship leader for special events.

The church is strategically placed in the center of New Providence, a vibrant New Jersey town with excellent amenities, schools and easy access to all that Manhattan has to offer. Our congregation recently changed denominations and we are now part of a relatively new group called ECO: A Covenant Order of Evangelical Presbyterians (www.eco-pres.org)
